REPORT

Wales is currently in the enviable position of having at least two freedom loving organisations at work. MEIBION GLYNDWR burning holiday homes in the North, and the WORKERS ARMY OF THE WELSH REPUBLIC planting firebombs along the route of the royal visit and at Tory party offices in the South. Despite a huge amount of work the police continue to run around in circles. ROBERT GRIFFITHS, secretary of the Welsh Socialist Republican Movement, and JOHN JENKINS OF MAC, are regularly arrested after every bomb attack and just as regularly released. As with the bombing campaign in the late 60's the police are being exposed as the idiots they are - the amount of possible suspects so small, the police saturation coverage so great, yet no results. They resolved this in the 60's with the preposterous FWA conspiracy trial in Swansea....which got mammoth publicity, and three gaol sentences but had nothing to do with the bombing campaign it was supposed to stop. The answer to their complete failure now could therefore be the same as in the 60'S - another conspiracy trial.

As in OPERATION FIRE, last year's massive police swoop in search of second home arsonists, in recent raids in search of the WAWR bombers those arrested have not been questioned at all about the bomb incidents - which is somewhat odd to put it mildly. Instead they have been asked about their political beliefs, their reading habits, their friends, and above all, their acquaintance with Robert Griffiths and John Jenkins.

PENIS STRETCH can make it

This kind of guilt by association intelligence gathering, combined with sticking plaster, wire, sugar, jam pots, matches, empty petrol cans and similar bric a brac, in which the police have shown a consuming interest during recent house searches, are the essential ingredients required for a conspiracy prosecution.

The other sign of increasing desperation among the police has been their complete abandonment of even any pretence of legality. Many of those detained during the recent royal visit were neither charged with anything, nor questioned about anything. They were quite simply ABDUCTED or 'kept out of the way for a few hours'.

Alas, we must also report that the search by the police in North and West Wales for the holiday home burners has been equally unsuccessful. The campaign also shows healthy signs of its traditional winter escalation. Besides the now traditional holiday cottage burning - perhaps a special section on this now flourishing craft at the eisteddfod this year - yachts, catamarans, caravans, revamped mills for the tourists to gawp at, and purpose built holiday flats are now within the arsonists repertoire.

Another development of late has been the issuing of proclamations signed by RHYS GETHIN, Commandant General of Meibion Glyndwr, after several attacks. The proclamations of Rhys Gethin are similar to those of GENERAL NED LUDD who issued apocalyptic denunciation of capitalism during the Luddite campaign of machine wrecking in the 19th century. Of course Rhys Gethin exists no more in the flesh than did Ned Ludd himself but serves to give a unity to the campaign. The idiot police however have been issuing descriptions of Rhys Gethin, listing possible sightings etc.....

convinced as they are that the arson campaign is the result of a sinister conspiracy by a few fanatical nationalists, rather than what it is, a series of spontaneous local protests against the devastation of local communities in Wales by second homes.

The spectacular failure of the Welsh police has now come to attention to their senior counterparts in English special branch following the two large scale robberies of gelignite and detonators from quarries in Mid and North Wales. With the IRA bombing campaign in London reaching a new pitch it may be that such incompetence can no longer be tolerated. We may soon see another Jock Wilson type Scotland Yard squad descending on Wales again, determined to bring any names that fit before the courts.

Youth dug up Vetch Field

BORED WITH LIFE on the dole, a 21-year-old Swansea man dug up a section of the Vetch Field as a protest against unemployment, city magistrates heard.

Hymn books

ANDALS stole 24 hymn books from Port Talbot's Riverside Baptist Church on Sunday while the service was going on, then ran outside and threw the books in the nearby River Afan.

Leslie Williams Evans dug up a square foot of earth inside the penalty area in front of one of the goals in the Swansea City Football Club ground, said Mr. Jim Davies, prosecuting.

"I'm bored with life. You would be too if you'd been unemployed for two years."

Former paint worker Evans told the court he had dug up the pitch as a protest against unemployment in Swansea.

The abject poverty of the British Left is nowhere better illustrated than by its two current pre-occupations - CND and the RIGHT TO WORK campaign. Both these campaigns were quite properly dead and buried years ago, but the Left, totally incapable of original thought, can only come up with pathetic attempts to resurrect them.

fight for the right to wank

'Fight for the right to work'....'No return to the 30's'.....'The most right wing tory government of the century'.....BLAH,BLAH,BLAH,BLAH...are the Lefties mad or do they really believe in this bull-shit. The right to work in a capitalist society is merely the fight for the right to be exploited. Please Mr. Capitalist, will you give us some shitty, boring job in a factory and give us fuck all for doing it - THIS IS OUR RIGHT. (Ha, ha, ha, what a wank). With rights like that who wants duties. We don't want to work to make some capitalist shit-house rich. WE DON'T WANT TO WORK AT ALL - THE ABOLITION OF WORK IS NOW CLEARLY POSSIBLE. Modern technology, placed under our control, means that we can now abolish the slavery of work forever - freed from the need to merely survive we can at last begin to live. But the Left has us lounging about on street corners in the 30's with empty margarine boxes under our arms, a hang dog look in our eyes, a cloth cap on our heads and holes in our boots from Jarrow marches. So their only thought is to repeat the tactics of the 30's - Right to Work marches- WOW - not only is the aim ridiculous but the tactic of trudging for hundreds of miles in pissing awful weather fits in totally with the Left's masochism. They believe in the work ethic more than the capitalists - if you haven't got a job you must inflict pain on yourself. Why not advise redundant workers to pour petrol over themselves and set fire to it. The Left would love it if someone did this after being made redundant....they loved the suicides of the two boys from Wigan....'unable to live without the dignity of a job'....'no self-respect'.....'nothing to live for FUCKIN HELL...if the only thing you've got to live for is a 9-5 job then you might as well snuff yourself. Of course the Trade union hacks have a vested interest in believing in this right to work crap...they'd be out of their well paid jobs, big cars, smart houses in Surrey etc if everyone told them to SOD OFF because they didn't want to work anyway.

WE'RE ALL WORKING TOGETHER to voice these demands

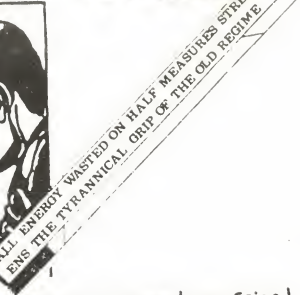

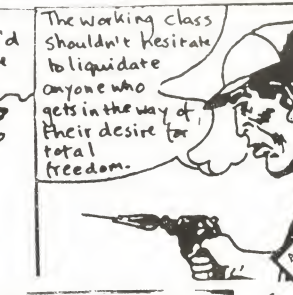

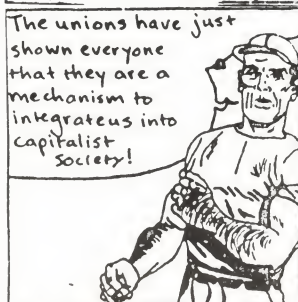

'Work makes free' - entrance to Auschwitz

The idea of being able to spend all your time realising your desires instead of struggling for survival is as deeply shocking to Lefties as to anyone else. They have managed to make kids believe that they really do want to work and to feel guilty if they don't. I saw an interview on t.v. where some kids were moaning that all they got on a YOP slave labour scheme was £23pw. 'But you would rather be working all the same' said the interviewer, 'rather than hanging about all day doing nothing'. 'Oh, yeh' shrugged the kids 'we're glad to have the job'. Why did they say that....because they'd have felt too fuckin' guilty to go on tv and say they'd rather not be working.

Fight for the right to shirk would be a much better slogan if you're into making demands (RECALL THE TUC is about the most hilarious one trotted out every year of the ruling class. The Leftie idea of demanding this that and the other from our rulers is a FUCKIN USELESS TACTIC anyway....there's only one demand to make to them....FUCK OFF.

In reality the working class is, as always, far ahead of the Left's ridiculous slogans. Doing as little work as possible (as opposed to the Left's 'A fair days work for a fair days pay' garbage) fiddling time sheets, clocking in for each other, stealing, sleeping, sabotaging the production line, playing cards...these are the genuine class conscious activities of the workers. Being on the dole is not the same as being unemployed in the 30's however much the Lefties might want us all to be starving to death. Nowadays you can steal food from supermarkets, hobble, swindle the DHSS, rip-off mail order catalogues.....YOU CAN HAVE A GOOD TIME AND NOT WORK.

As a fair-minded manager I'd like to remind you that there are union channels through which to express any criticisms.

Comrades, once you have seized the economy, the power of the WORKERS COUNCILS will be the only

SUPPORT YOUR LOCAL MUTANTS...

On their recent, somewhat less than triumphal, progress through Wales Carlo and Di were originally to have been driven by car from Haverfordwest to Carmarthen along the A40. Imagine therefore the shock, horror waves felt by the royal tour organisers when they realised this would mean directly passing the dreaded MUTANT caravan site in a lay by off the road. God knows what these Mansonite drug crazed hippies might do to the royal couple - in all probability eat them alive in magic mushroom stew. The royal train was hastily summoned to perform the journey instead.

What is it about this small group of caravan dwellers that can force our future king and queen to change their travel plans. Can make the solid respectable farming folk of H'west watch them day and night from their vigilante vantage points down the road.....standing in the cold and rain (HA, HA) so as not to miss the slightest movement. And at the slightest movement summon shotgun toting farmers in their hundreds from the surrounding hills and fields. What is it about this small group that permits the local police to turn a blind eye to the local vigilantes blasting caravans where small children are sleeping, with their shotguns and yet summons the MUTANTS themselves on piddling technical motoring charges which even the local H'west magistrates have to throw out or hand down £5 fines.

Well these boys and girls ain't yer old fashioned 'peace and love man' hippies who'll lie down in the road and let the local boyos walk all over them. This lot fight back, they're combative, they ARE the people your mums and dads warned you about. The ideas of the commune brought into the town for all to see, not tucked harmlessly away from view in teepees miles from anywhere.

These MUTANTS are a new breed....but what if they continue to breed.....what if they cross breed with local delinquents.....OH, NO.....NO wonder the Lord Lieutenant is shitting himself. Following on from an incident where two mutants are now in custody on charges arising from petrol bomb attacks on local vigilantes, arson and petrol bombing has become all the rage amongst Haverfordwest youngsters. Two local girls have just been charged with a series of attacks on Water board offices, shops and RAF quarters.

the punk-situationist LIVING LEGENDS from Swansea are now concentrating on getting together a FUCK THE POPE event during the pathetic pontiff's Cardiff visit in May. The police have already announced plans for the sealing off of the whole of Cardiff for the day, plus massive security and the creation of 'sterile areas'. Despite the expected presence of half a million fanatical Catholics, nuns, monks, cardinals, and other moronic riff-raff the LEGENDS are keen on the spectacle of world wide live tv coverage. They're not gigging anywhere in December due to massive line-up changes but will be hitting the road again in January with a series of FUCK OFF benefits. Details and LIVING LEGENDS interview in January's FUCK OFF.

c.n.d. — THE Campaign for <sup>R</sup> Real Warfare

Man's First and Last Thought...

SURVIVAL!

All over Europe thousands of idealists are getting hot under the collar about Trident or Cruise missiles; Are worrying themselves sick about the effects of radiation and their ability to survive a nuclear attack; Will there be enough doctors after the holocaust to look after the survivors; How will the government continue; Will there be a breakdown of law and order; should we take our pension books into the fall-out shelters with us, and our access cards; Are there enough shelters for us and what about the Neutron bomb?.....ETC etc etc etc etc etc etc etc C.N.D. IS LIKE HULA HOOPS, RUBIK CUBES, GURU MAHAR-

AJI, SHAKIN' STEVENS, CAMRA - a chance for us to let off steam about something totally harmless, which poses no threat to the structure of capitalist society. All we're arguing about is a method of warfare - of choosing which way the ruling class will kill us. DO you want to be bayoneted to death up to your neck in mud bullets and mustard gas or do you prefer to be atomised to fragments. Are you a traditionalist or a progressive. I say darling, are you conventional or nuclear. C.N.D. is nothing but the CAMPAIGN FOR REAL WAR.

Stork or butter, Oxford or Cambridge, Omo or Persil,

And yet everybody wants to breathe and nobody can breathe and a lot of people say 'we'll be able to breathe later'. And most people don't die because they are already dead.

The much feared HOLOCAUST is already with us - in the total boredom and alienation of our everyday lives. Physical death can make no difference when we all lead dead lives anyway - when we struggle to survive rather than live. The boredom and alienation of every aspect of our lives - leisure, work, sex, consumption - is the totality of our everyday life. No one aspect can be divorced from another. Specialisation - the concentration on one aspect of our alienation e.g. CND - can achieve nothing. Only an attack on, the totality of everyday existence CAN lead to the physical and spiritual insurrection we desire.

Labour or Tory, BBC or ITV, Hazel O'Connor or Toyah Wilcox. In a spectacular society everyone has to have an opinion for or against everything from warfare to white bread. A whole series of fake choices is paraded before us so that we can exercise our free will, show our strength of judgement, be cultured and intelligent - IN OTHER WORDS - IDIOTS

The riots of the summer were such an insurrection. As in Paris in 1968 no Lefties saw such events coming and afterwards tried to cobble together economic arguments as their explanation. But the explanation was the sheer boredom of life for youngsters employed and unemployed. Never far below the surface, but usually privatised into acts of individual vandalism, THE COLLECTIVE JOY OF RIOTING AND LOOTING BROKE THROUGH THE SURFACE IN A WONDERFUL EXPLOSION. Whether they dropped colour t.v.s on to the heads of the police from multi-storey flats or merely looted them, the possibilities of complete transformation were obvious.

The reactionary pro-capitalist slogan of CND/Right to work - JOBS NOT BOMBS (HA, HA, HA, HA, HA, HA, HA, HA,) was gloriously overturned by the petrol bombers of the summer into
